Orientation Program, Dr. V. S. Ravindran

The school delightedly hosted an orientation workshop with the parents and the students of Class-X. As an educational institute, we throng such positive and purposeful efforts so as to condition the minds of the students, parents and the teachers in the ongoing competitive scenario. In this global era, the most sensitive issue for us is to ensure the proper grooming of our children. Hence we need to be morally, socially and spiritually bound to give them the best possible nurturing. Our homes and educational institutes are the real places where the future of young generation, society and humanity is shaped. This is one of the most instrumental approach to educate our students in general and value based multi-dimensional grooming of the children in particular. The work shop also imparted the effective study skills among the children, wherein the students' queries were answered in the most structured manner.

Energising Students' Potentials

The IC3 Regional Forum at the Emerald Heights

The Emerald Heights hosted the IC3 Regional Forum wherein around 50 Principals and High School Counselors across the state participated. The selection of appropriate career is the backbone to successful future prospects, henceforth it's very important for the stakeholders and parents to be keep abreast with the rapidly changing trends in the career domain, so that our children are guided in the most conducive manner. All this becomes possible with the right accumulation of knowledge, good and healthy relations with the universities and latest information in the field of higher education. Adhering the same, we earnestly involve ourselves in the events and activities which benefit our students directly.

Galvanising Peer Mentoring

Peer-to-peer mentoring, we envisage, is a supportive aid for the students in enhancing learning and personal development. In keeping with the same, the school head boy, Dev Seth, mentored the students of Classes VIII and IX for the upcoming PSAT exam conducted by the College Board, New Jersey, USA. Dev not only imparted the knowledge and skills to be successful in the PSAT, but also facilitated the importance of personal self support and best utilization of the free resources available online.

The Serendipity of Guidance based Counseling

Today's children are growing up in a rapidly changing social, cultural and educational environment where they are dealing with the new age of information and entertainment. Lifestyles and value systems of children are shaped by the digital media. Children need proper support and guidance to cope up with the pressure of this complex modern living. In the absence of the required guidance, children might become aimless and aggressive. Keeping in lieu that children spend most of their formative years in the school, we profoundly opine that the onus of bringing them up mentally healthy individuals, falls summarily upon us. Actualizing the dire need for the schools to adopt the whole philosophy of Guidance based education, we in association with ICTRC, hosted a Regional Symposium of School Principal's in our campus. Principals from renowned schools across the state assembled in the forum with the objective, to develop an understanding of the whole field of Guidance and Counselling in order to identify the needed change thereby creating a vision.
